Dean Bildan named ASEAN Architect

John H. Lanuzo, VP-ILEA Office

College of Architecture and Fine Arts (CAFA) Dean Architect Marco F. Bildan was named the 65th ASEAN Architect (AA) at the prestigious ASEAN Architects Meet last March 9, 2018 at Raffles Fairmont Hotel in Makati City.

Dean Bildan is one of 37 other Filipino architects who were conferred, making the Philippines the third highest ranking Asian country to have the most number of recognized AAs in the ASEAN region with Indonesia at the top followed by Singapore.

The dean submitted his profile to the PRC International Affairs in October 2016 and was interviewed by a panel of ten experts on April 26, 2017. He successfully passed the rigid interview and thereafter conferred the title ASEAN Architect (Registration No. 0065) specializing in Architectural Design, Building Utilities and the Academe.

Dean Bildan is not only an architect but also a Real Estate Broker & a former board examiner in the Master Plumbing Board Exams in 2007 - 2009. At present, he is one of the three Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Council members in Master Plumbing.

He also serves as a private professional practitioner, designing several commercial, industrial, sectoral, and residential structures through Bildanation Architectural and Engineering Solutions. His continuous development as an architect has been evident in his active involvement and leadership at the United Architects of the Philippines (UAP), particularly in the UAP Tarlac Chapter; the Council of Deans and Heads of Architectural School in the Philippines and other professional organizations.

Bildan is also a member of the university technical working group responsible for the design and inspection of major campus infrastructure projects including the 4-storey University Hotel, 3-storey University Library, the 5-storey Multi-purpose Building, the University Interfaith Chapel, the 5-storey Academic Building (Phase I) and the Development Plan of San Isidro Campus which is envisioned to be the 'Technological Campus' of the University.

A contributing writer of the Archikonst - the Philippines' longest running architecture and construction magazine, Arch. Bildan wrote about the "design of Butterfly Gutter," "Campus Beat: The Technology Campus of the Tarlac State University," and "Six Common Construction Project Failures in the Philippines and How to Manage Them."

National Ban on smoking explained

Noel Christian D. Angeles, OPAI

A seminar on the national smoking ban was held last April 26 at the TSU Main AVR.

Executive Order No. 26, s. 2017, provides for the establishment of smoke-free environments in public and enclosed places and prohibits smoking in public places like workplaces. However, the details of the said EO have never been clear to the masses, hence, the formation of the event.

Hosted by Ms. Renalyn Lucero, the event progressed immediately with the seminar proper, led by Atty. Numer Lobo, the City Government Administrator of Tarlac. In essence, Atty. Lobo discussed the legal interpretation of the executive order; the punishable actions, sanctions to be dealt to a violator and what activities should the university take to support the smoking ban.

Foundation course on Intellectual Property held

John H. Lanuzo, VP-ILEA Office

A Foundation Course on Intellectual Property (IP) was conducted by the Technology Development, Transfer and Commercialization Office (TDTCO) last April 18, 2018 to provide technical knowledge in managing student and faculty researches/inventions at the TSU Gymnasium.

The said activity was participated by colleges whose researches can be patented through the Intellectual Property Office of the Philippines (IPOP). Engr. Emir Lenard SF. Sicangco welcomed the participants and cited the importance of the seminar to student researchers/inventors. Dr. Louella F. Ona, Vice President for Institutional Linkages and External Affairs (ILEA), spoke to the participants and reiterated the importance of the Intellectual Property law in governing researches and inventions. She emphasized the need to comply with the basic requirements of the Intellectual property code in order to avoid suits and legal disputes surrounding intellectual property works.

Dr. Roberto C. Pagulayan of Angeles University Foundation (AUF) started the first leg of the activity, discussing the relevance of IP to the Academe. Meanwhile, Mr. Dindo O. Dumali of IPOP provided an overview of the IP System.

Special prizes were given to the participants who were able to answer the pop quiz questions prepared by the Masters of Ceremony Dr. Wilmark J. Ramos and Ms. Francelle L. Calub.

In the afternoon session, Umali delivered an in-depth factual analysis regarding patents and utility models. Pagulayan, on the other hand, mentioned the Importance of Prior Art Search in developing research papers. To end the program, Dr. Glenard T. Madriaga, Vice President for Research and Extension Services congratulated the seminar attendees and asked them to share the knowledge that they acquired in the whole-day seminar.

AACCUP Accreditation: Closing Program

Noel Christian D. Angeles, OPAI

The closing program for the AACCUP Accreditation was held in the afternoon of April 19, at the TSU Alumni Center.

The event was opened by a thanksgiving prayer, courtesy of the Dean of College of Computer Studies, Engr. Marlon V. Gamido, followed by the statement of over-all impression of the accreditors through Dr. Evelyn D. Taban of Nueva Viscaya State University (NVSU) and Dr. Renelda P. Nacianceno of Iloilo Science and Technology University (ISAT U).

Dr. Myrna Q. Mallari, TSU President proceeded with the Statement of Commitment and Acknowledgement and the Awarding of Certificates of Recognition to formally close the program.

Programs that underwent surveys were the Master of Arts in Education Major in English, Major in Filipino, Major in Physical Science and Major in Pre-School; Bachelor of Physical Education; Master of Arts in Nursing; Bachelor of Fine Arts; and Master on Information Technology.

Student Leaders attend forum

Search for Ten Outstanding Students of the Philippines

Daniel C. De Guzman, SDU

Tarlac State University and all the universities and private Higher Education Institutes (HEIs) of Region III, expressed their support to the 2nd Student Affairs Forum conducted at the Holy Angel University, Angeles City last April 19, 2018.

The said forum is in line with the upcoming search for the Ten Outstanding Students of the Philippines (TOSP) 2018. Bearing the theme "School as a Breeding Ground of Nation Builders," the event's primary objective is to increase the participation of HEIs in the TOSP Search as a way of promoting nation building among the young generations and give them an opportunity to be part of the said mission.

Dr. Edwin T. Caoleng, Dean of the Office of Student Affairs and Services, and Ms. Reynamy C. Doria, the current Supreme Student Council president, represented the university in the said forum. The official nominees from TSU who will be joining this year's TOSP Search are Ms. Reynamy C. Doria (CPAG), Mr. Mark Justine M. Marcos (COED) and Mr. John Ralph Aaron Dungca (CCS).

TSU conducts 2nd CPD National Seminar-Workshop for Early Childhood Education Teachers

Jay Ann L. Pablo, UESO

The Tarlac State University-Professional Development Services (TSU-PDS) Program of the University Extension Services Office (UESO) has successfully conducted the 2nd Continuing Professional Development National Seminar-Workshop for Early Childhood Education Teachers last April 13, 14 and 15, 2018 at the TSU Hotel, Villa Lucinda Campus, Tarlac City.

The PDS Program is an income generating unit of the UESO headed by Dr. Maria Agnes P. Ladia. It aims to help the professionals in acquiring new skills and enhancing their existing work-based experience by conducting seminar-workshop to give them the competitive edge and take their careers to the next level. This seminar-workshop will help them garner 9 credit units as compliance to R.A. 10912 for professional teachers. It also aimed to create an up-to-date teaching ideas and child care training as to its philosophy, purpose and potential for a conducive, satisfying and enjoyable environment.

The 78 participants from different schools were welcomed by UESO Director Redemptor G. Toledano, followed by the Dean of the COED, Dr. Erwin E. Lacanlale and Keynote Speaker, Dr. Rosauro M. Perez for the gist and overview. The attached faculty of the TSU-COED (TSU-College of Education) and staff of TSU-TDTCO (TSU-Technology Development Transfer and Commercialization Office), Ms. Francelle L. Calub was the master of the ceremony.

Dr. Cynthia G. Quiambao and Dr. Nino B. Corpuz served as the speakers during the seminar-workshop. Dr. Quiambao is a professional teacher of the TSU-COED and the Program Extension Chairperson (PEC) of two programs, namely, Elementary Education and Graduate School. She has also been a part of different professional organizations such as Phi Lamda Theta and Association of Educators for Interrelated Research and Studies while Dr. Corpuz is a professional teacher of the TSU-COED and a registered guidance counselor and they are experts in preparing young minds for the challenges and opportunities discovered as they embark children on their careers. They reiterated the importance of child care training. To develop the physical, cognitive and socio-emotional dimensions of a child by allowing them to be exposed, encouraging them to explore and experience the world because it can be an advantaged or disadvantaged to the development of a child. After the talk, series of brain-based and stimulating workshops were held and participants were commended on their outputs.

In the closing program, Mr. Meljo Z. Apilano from the Don Mariano Marcos Memorial State University (DMMMSU) in La Union, as one of the participants, actively participated in the seminar-workshop and gave impressions. He emphasized the best practice of making use of the available materials and have it indigenized that could be implemented in their designated schools.

TSU Key Officials take Oath of Office

John H. Lanuzo, VP-ILEA Office

Tarlac State University (TSU) Key Officials took their Oath of Office last April 12, 2018 at the TSU Alumni Center, Villa Lucinda Campus, Binauganan, Tarlac City presided by the university president Dr. Myrna Q. Mallari.

Dr. Mallari inspired the officials with her remarks, acknowledging the efforts of the officials in attaining the vision of the university. While praising the professionalism of her new official family, the President took time to apologize to them for her shortcomings. She explained that in her eagerness and zeal to make TSU better, she might have inadvertently hurt some. She assured everyone however that "part of the effort to attain excellence is the occurrence of misunderstanding. The President nevertheless extolled everyone to continue working with her for the University.

After taking their oaths, the vice presidents in turn administered the oath-taking of the respective directors, deans and heads under their office.

To liven up the crowd, acoustic guitar and song numbers were performed by the VP for Extension and Research, Dr. Glenard Madriaga, NASA President Harland Cappel, and OPAI Director, Prof. Bong Luis.

MISO holds Orientation-briefing on Enrollment Procedures

John H. Lanuzo, VP-ILEA Office

In line with the upcoming enrolment of freshmen students of Tarlac State University (TSU), the Management Information Systems Office (MISO) conducted an Orientation-briefing on enrollment procedures and tagging for the Free Tuition Fee program last April 17, 2018 at the TSU Main AVR.

The objective of the said orientation was to train and retool the college clerks, end-users, and concerned faculty and staff in managing the enrollment systems in preparation for the first batch of K-12 freshmen enrollment for academic year 2018-2019.

The orientation centered on training the participants the interface of the tools to be used during the enrolment process. Mr. Jesus Valdoz of MISO served as the trainer of the said activity.

Flag retreat revived

Noel Christian D. Angeles, OPAI

In accordance with Civil Service Commission Circular No. 19, s. 2012 and pursuant to Republic Act (R.A) 8491, or the Flag and Heraldic Code of the Philippines which requires public offices to hold a flag retreat ceremony, the Tarlac State University (TSU) accordingly commenced its first flag retreat last April 19, in front of the Administration Building.

Hosted by the Administrative Service Unit, the program started with the assembly of all the non-teaching personnel of the university. The national anthem Lupang Hinirang was sung while the flag was slowly lowered. This was followed by a closing prayer which officially ended the day and the week's activities.

Accordingly, the flag retreat ceremony will be held every 5:00PM of the last working day of the week.

One stop shop system hastens enrollment

Noel Christian D. Angeles, OPAI

In the effort to provide quick and hassle-free services to its student-stakeholders, the Tarlac State University (TSU) adopted a procedure to make enrollment faster and easier. By gathering relevant offices and temporarily housing them together in one accessible place, enrollees now need not waste time searching for them across the university campus for the enrollment procedures. Transaction desks of the various relevant offices were all placed at the TSU gym to accommodate a bigger number of enrollees.

Upon arrival, the enrollees were immediately greeted by friendly and accommodating student assistants, ready to queries related to the procedure of enrollment. The enrollment proper which is divided into 5 major stations, namely, admission, encoding, free tuition tagging, COR claiming and business center/medical schedule, were clearly delineated for each enrollee to see and follow.

Supervising the novel procedure was no less than the Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Armee N. Rosel. With only a few minor hitches, the enrollment process that once took a day or days to finish now takes all but six (6) minutes to go through the entire procedure. Once replicated, and the minor issues resolved, the process will yet prove to be the fastest enrollment procedure ever in a State University or College.

TSU Intramurals 2018

CBA rules annual sports fest anew

Noel Christian D. Angeles, OPAI

With the theme "supremacy," colleges of the Tarlac State University battled it out for the sought-after annual TSU Intramurals championship held last April 10 -14, 2018.

The College of Business and Accountancy (CBA) Green Tigers once again dominated the field as the green shirts claimed their historical three-peat championship this year. Showing grit right on the opening day, the green tigers snared the gold in the cheerleading competition, pocketing their 4th straight championship in the event.

Meanwhile, chief rival College of Education (COEd) Golden Eagles highlighted its domination in the table tennis women's division with Julie Anne Cawigan, a consistent SCUAA representative outclassing the competition.

Over at the dance hall, the College of Engineering and Technology (CET) Maroon Sharks emerged victorious as they bagged 1st place in the standard category, showcasing great finishes in the Tango and Quick-step minor categories.

Ultimately, the green tigers showed great class and a powerful all-around performance which netted them 77 golds, 60 silvers and 42 bronzes. The College of Education was second with 74 golds, 54 silvers and 65 bronzes, while the Engineering maroon sharks finished third overall with 39 golds, 54 silvers and 54 bronzes.
